117.19 Classes with three or less entries may be combined with another class at the race director's option. To constitute a class must average a minimum of three karts or 27 entries per race season.

A protest must be filed within thirty minutes of the completion of their class's last race.

117.22.1 The protesting driver must pass tech as well.

117.22.2 One responsible party involved in the protest may watch the engine teardown, the party must stay respectful while observing. Any party who refuses to stay respectful is DQ'd and the money will go to the other party. Arguing or attempting to sway a Tech Director is grounds for DQ.

117.22.4 The Tech Inspector will receive $100 for completing the inspection. If the engine is found to be legal, $200 will be forfeited to the protested driver. If the engine is found to be illegal the protesting driver will receive a $200 refund.

117.23 SKRA track “record breakers” will be teched after their last race for the day. If a Tech Director is not available, the engine will be impounded by the Race Director and held in a locked box. The engine will be inspected by NWKA at the next Super Cup race. The racer will maintain the key or lock combination. The racer must be present at a prearranged location while the SKRA Tech Director inspects the engine. An SKRA Officer must also be present. If an engine tear down and tech is refused, that driver will relinquish all points received for that day and that track record. The Tech Director or person performing the full engine tear down shall be paid $50.00 per engine by SKRA. A driver must be an SKRA member to qualify for a track record.

117.25 If classes are combined, they will start together with the fastest class in front. Every effort should be made to ensure that karts from different classes don't interfere with each other to the point that the outcome of their heat is affected. If an incident occurs within the 1st lap that results in karts from different classes becoming mixed, the flag person, at their discretion, may either re-start the race, or use the Blue Flag to adjust the karts positions on the track.

117.26 All competitors will receive points if they take the green flag, and the driver is weighed in at the scale after the heat. Racers not taking the green flag will not receive any points for that heat.
